

What makes a good entrepreneur?

Traits and Qualities needed for an entrepreneur

Psychological Traits

Interpersonal Skills

Skillset and Knowledge

Decision-Making

Psychological Traits

Traits/Skills	Description
Resilience	Ability to bounce back and learn from setbacks.
Risk-Taking	Willingness to step outside your comfort zone and take calculated risks.
Vision	Clear vision for the venture and ability to articulate it to others.
Self-Discipline	Drive to stay committed, manage time well, and meet deadlines.

Interpersonal Skills

Traits/Skills	Description
Communication	Ability to convey ideas clearly and listen well to others.
Negotiation Skills	Skill in securing funding, establishing partnerships, and guiding the team.
Networking	Building strong relationships with other professionals for opportunities and insights.
Leadership	Ability to inspire, guide, and manage a team.

Skillset and Knowledge

Traits/Skills	Description
Adaptability	Ability to adapt to market changes, evolving technologies, and shifting consumer preferences.
Financial Literacy	Understanding of basic financial principles for running a business.
Industry Knowledge	Deep understanding of your specific industry for a competitive edge.
Sales and Marketing	Skills in promoting and selling your product or service.

Decision Making

Traits/Skills	Description
Analytical Thinking	Ability to assess situations or problems and consider various solutions.
Intuition	Trusting your gut, especially when there's no hard data.
Strategic Planning	Mapping out a plan that considers potential opportunities and obstacles.
Innovation	Willingness to be creative and think outside the box.
Resourcefulness	Ability to make the most of limited resources, especially in early stages or tough times.

What makes a good entrepreneur?

Contact

inspire99info@gmail.com for questions

